Sustainable global animal agriculture: Building on India’s successes

Jimmy Smith
ILRI Director General

National Dairy Research Institute 14th Convocation
Karnal, India
5 March 2016
Animal agriculture matters globally.
Demand for milk, meat and eggs is rising globally.
Developing countries are where all the action is Livestock matters are big opportunities
India is responsive to those changing opportunities
India is a world leader in livestock development.
India responded to the livestock revolution
India responded with research excellence
India built an exemplary smallholder dairy sector
India leads the world in milk and meat production
India’s smallholder livestock sector still rules
India’s livestock sector is making a positive transition.
More that remains to be done
Increase India’s livestock efficiencies
Create jobs for millions of youth
Balance Indian diets
Enroll youth as livestock entrepreneurs
Empower India’s women
Protect India’s natural resources
Thank you

Images throughout are via Instagram better lives through livestock

ilri.org